Zero Limits: The Secret Hawaiian System For Wealth, Health, Peace, And More (Your Coach In A Box)

Synopsis

Zero Limits reveals the breakthrough self-improvement approach that is proven to help people who are overworked, overstressed, and just plain overwhelmed deal effectively with removing self-imposed limitations in their lives that are often manifest as chaos, disease, and poverty. Joe Vitale was once homeless. Now, he's the millionaire author of numerous bestselling books, an Internet celebrity, and an in-demand online marketing guru. What did he do to create all of that success? Was it hard work, divine providence, or both? The answer is surprising. It wasn't until he discovered the ancient Hawaiian Ho'oponopono system that he finally found truly unlimited success. Updated for modern times, Ho'oponopono is a self-help methodology that removes the mental obstacles that block a listener's path, freeing his mind to find new and unexpected ways to get what he wants out of life. It works wonders both professionally and personally. It works so well in fact, that Vitale had to share it with the world, so that others could experience the fulfillment and happiness he feels every day. Teaming up with Dr. Ihaleakala Hew Len, master teacher of modern Ho'oponopono, Vitale tells the listener how to attain wealth, health, peace, and happiness. They walk him through the system, helping him clear his mind of subconscious blocks so that destiny and desire can take over and help him get what he truly wants from life. It clears out unconsciously accepted beliefs, thoughts, and memories that he doesn't even know are holding him back.

Aloha, For about 22 years I am a practitioner of the updated Ho'oponopono-process from Mornnah

Simeona, who brings balance and joy in my daily life. So I feel free, to comment this book called Zero Limits. I do not care that it is a promotion book for activities of the authors. But I care for the legacy of Mornnah. In that view the book does not reflect her genuine teachings, it is mixed up with other ideas, therefore creating a different system - but is referring to Mornnah. Doing her Ho'oponopono is primarily not what is promised on the cover. Wealth can be a comfortable side-effect. The process is for releasing negative energies out of your mind and the mind of others involved at a given problem. The result is a blessing from the Divine Creator for all involved parties - but which kind is His choice. And Yes, the Way of Mornnah leads step by step to Peace and FREEDOM for you and your family and relatives, for your neighbors and your circle of acquaintances. May be even the landscape around you will have less traffic, more flowers and so on. You and those you are associated with will be on the track of evolution again. But one thing will not happen: It will not lead to Zero. The Divine is not Zero, the Divine is LIFE itself. To say e.g. to the Unihipili "I love you, I am sorry, please forgive me, thank you" are not key phrases of the Ho'oponopono - even they are written on many pages of the book. They work, as you profit from the huge thought forms of LOVE, FORGIVENESS or THANKS. Unihipili - your subconsciousness - is then in a well-feeling vibration, pretending your problems are erased. But not so. Your mind is simply manipulated. These words are a kind of murmuring a mantra, of singing a catchy record. With temporarily effect.

This was my first introduction to Joe Vitale. I had been waiting rather impatiently for this book, because I had hoped it would give me some more information about Ho'oponopono. It was a disappointment on a number of fronts. I have 5 specific issues: 1. Perhaps if I had been acquainted with Joe's story and his writings prior to this book I might have felt differently, but I just couldn't get excited about the man, his journey, or his story. I wanted to, but I just couldn't get there. Bad storytelling. 2. Joe tells us nothing in this book about Ho'oponopono that can't be found easily (and for free) on the Ho'oponopono website. Nothing. I had hoped that Joe and Dr. Hew Len had gotten together to write a manual about the whole process. Not so. Joe mentions at one point that he has made a commitment not to share certain aspects of the training. Good for him for honoring that. I just had expected something more in-depth. 3. In the course of his story, Joe manages to plug each and every one of his products right down to their respective web pages. Only he doesn't weave it skillfully into the story - each time, it comes across as a jarring sales pitch, like one of those product placements in a movie where the guy drinks a Coke out of the can and has to hold it in an unnatural manner so that you can be sure to see the label. 4. Joe relates a conversation he had with Dr. Hew

Len wherein Dr. Hew Len talks about having a conversation with chairs in a meeting room. Joe relates it as though Dr. Hew Len has said these things to him. In fact, the entire vignette was lifted VERBATIM from an interview between Cat Saunders and Dr. Hew Len that had been published in the Seattle Times in September of 1997 ("100% Responsibility and the Possibility ?
